MEMORANDUM FOR: Vice Chairman, National Intelligence Council

FROM:

[REDACTED]

25X1

National Intelligence Officer for East Asia

SUBJECT:

Lecture to State Department Mid-Career Course

I have been asked to give a talk on the relationship between intelligence and foreign policy making to the State Department's mid-career course at FSI. This particular request is a little unusual, however, in that it comes from Georgetown University--where I am an adjunct instructor in international relations--which has contracted with the State Department to present a block of instruction in the course. Accordingly, my talk on intelligence will be unclassified
